FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NABCA'S 22nd Annual Legal Symposium Focuses on Alcohol Beverage Law and Regulation

It is the only forum that focuses on legal issues from the perspective of regulators, policy makers and the alcohol beverage industry.

ALEXANDRIA, VA (March 13, 2015) – NABCA's 22nd Annual Symposium on Alcohol Beverage Law and Regulation will cover hot topics affecting alcohol beverage laws, including regulating marijuana like alcohol, alcohol regulation meets the digital age and meeting the media. The Symposium will be held March 15 – 17 at the Westin in historic, Old Town, Alexandria, Va.

Government and industry perspectives will be represented by expert presenters and attendees. Several others bring an impartial view of key issues impacting participants. Other general areas to be covered include trade practices, ethics, private labels and licensing.

"Attendance at the Symposium proves beneficial to a myriad of audiences: lawyers, state and federal regulators, representatives of the alcohol beverage industry and other affiliated entities," said Jim Sgueo, NABCA president & CEO. "In addition, the Symposium provides an invaluable opportunity to network with colleagues from across the country."

A planning committee made up of regulators, industry analysts and experts created an educational agenda that qualifies for Continuing Legal Education (CLE) credits.
