The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board (PLCB) is a state agency that serves as the commonwealth’s responsible seller of wines and spirits, regulates Pennsylvania’s beverage alcohol industry and promotes social responsibility and alcohol education, while maximizing financial returns for the benefit of all Pennsylvanians. The PLCB regulates the manufacture, importation, sale, distribution and disposition of liquor, alcohol and malt or brewed beverages in the commonwealth. The agency issues licenses to private individuals or entities that wish to engage in wholesale operations of beer, either as an importing distributor or as a distributor. The agency is responsible for wholesale distribution of wine and spirits, which licensees may pick up from state-operated Fine Wine & Good Spirits stores or licensee service centers, or have wine and spirits delivered from PLCB distribution centers.

PLCB

The PLCB was created on Dec. 1, 1933. The agency was responsible for setting up a system of state-run stores to sell wine and spirits, for issuing liquor licenses to hotels, restaurants and clubs and finally enforcing the laws and regulations concerning the sale of alcohol in the state. On Jan. 2, 1934, the first 63 state stores and five warehouses opened for business. In 1987, the legislature passed a law transferring the enforcement of the Liquor Code from the PLCB to the Pennsylvania State Police (PSP), where it remains today.

In 2016, the most comprehensive changes to Pennsylvania’s Liquor Code since Prohibition were signed into law, transformingly changing the beverage alcohol landscape in Pennsylvania. Among the most significant changes brought about by Act 39 of 2016 were direct shipping of wine to residents; wine-to-go sales at restaurant and hotel licensees, including grocery and convenience stores; Pennsylvania Lottery sales and expanded Sunday and holiday hours at Fine Wine & Good Spirits stores; and new marketing opportunities, including a customer loyalty program.

Sta
distributes its contributions to state and local governments as follows:

- Pennsylvania Treasury, including liquor tax, state sales tax and annual general fund transfers ($786 million) (93.9%)
- Pennsylvania State Police for the Enforcement of Liquor Laws ($30.7 million) (3.7%)
- The Department of Drug and Alcohol Programs ($6.6 million) (0.8%)
- Local Communities, through the return of licensing fees ($2.7 million) (0.3%)
- Philadelphia and Allegheny Counties, through local sales tax ($10.7 million) (1.3%)

ENFORCEMENT

While the PLCB is responsible for issuing and renewing liquor licenses, enforcement of liquor laws is not the responsibility of the agency. The PLCB can refuse to renew a license, and the agency has limited authority to suspend a license if a licensee fails to meet certain technical requirements.

Enforcement of the Liquor Code and PLCB regulations is the responsibility of the PSP Bureau of Liquor Control Enforcement (BLCE). The BLCE issues citations against licensees found to be in violation of the Liquor Code and/or PLCB regulations.

The Office of Administrative Law Judge (OALJ), an autonomous office within the PLCB, adjudicates citations against licensees issued by the BLCE. For each citation, the OALJ issues an adjudication presenting findings of fact, conclusions of law and penalties, where applicable. The OALJ has the authority to issue fines and suspend or revoke liquor licenses. Appeals of OALJ decisions come before the Board.

From 1933 through FY21-22, the PLCB has contributed nearly $19.5 billion to the state.

Figures are from Fiscal Year 2021-22
The PLCB uses two distribution centers in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, combined totaling 817,000 square feet, roughly 14 football fields. Two privately held companies operate the warehouses.

Cases and kegs of malt and brewed beverages are sold by distributors and importing distributors, who are also permitted to sell growlers, six-packs and even single bottles and cans of malt and brewed beverages to non-licensee customers. Sales between licensees must be in case quantities or single containers of 128 ounces or more. Restaurant, hotel and eating place malt beverage licensees are permitted to sell up to 192 ounces (commonly two six packs) to go, per transaction. Pennsylvania breweries may self-distribute to licensees and the public, or may distribute through distributors and importing distributors. Out-of-state brewers must distribute through importing distributors.

Consumers and licensees may buy wine and spirits from either the PLCB or Pennsylvania-licensed manufacturers, such as limited wineries and limited distilleries.

DISTRIBUTION

The PLCB’s Bureau of Alcohol Education provides a comprehensive alcohol education program to communities and community groups, primary schools, colleges and universities and law enforcement to help prevent sales to minors and underage and dangerous drinking.

The PLCB’s Responsible Alcohol Management Program (RAMP) training assists licensees with identifying fraudulent IDs, preventing sales to minors, recognizing and handling visibly intoxicated patrons and understanding liability issues. In FY21-22, 6,595 owners and managers and 98,851 servers were trained through RAMP.

OUTLETS AND GROCERY STORES

The PLCB operates about 585 Fine Wine & Good Spirits stores across Pennsylvania, including more than 110 Premium Collection stores and an e-commerce retail website.

The PLCB regulates more than 16,000 retail and wholesale licensees in the commonwealth and has the discretion to grant or refuse a new license or transfer if the applicant to be licensed is within 300 feet of any church, hospital, charitable institution, school or public playground, or if such new license or transfer is within 200 feet of any other premises that is licensed by the board. The Board may also refuse any new license or the transfer of any license to a new location if, in the Board’s opinion, it would be detrimental to the welfare, health, peace and morals of the inhabitants of the neighborhood within a radius of 500 feet of the place proposed to be licensed.

- Spirits may be purchased from Fine Wine & Good Spirits stores, licensed limited distilleries and licensed distilleries.
- Certain license types, most commonly restaurant, hotel and eating place malt beverage licenses, allow for the sale of up to two six packs of beer to go, per transaction. Restaurant and hotel licenses, which include many grocery and convenience stores, that obtain a wine expanded permit are also authorized to sell up to three liters of wine to go per transaction.
- Servers must be 18 years of age or older to serve beer, wine or liquor at on-premise outlets, and employees at off-premise outlets must be 18 years of age or older to sell alcohol.
- Sunday sales are allowed under a Sunday sales permit.
- Keg registration is not required.
- For every 100,000 residents ages 21 and older, there are 5.5 spirits outlets.
- Responsible alcohol beverage service training is required for all new hires of retail licensees.
